"Pape's Diapiesin" is the Only Real Stomach Regulator Known

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that just makes Pape's Diapiesin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.—Adv.

CITY ATTORNEY'S DEPUTY WEDDED LAST EVENING

William Thomas Carden, deputy city attorney, and Miss Florence G. Cassidy, a member of the faculty of the McKinley High school, were married at 8:30 o'clock last evening at St. Andrew's cathedral, the Rev. Canon William Ault officiating. Miss Laura Cassidy, the bride's sister, and the bridegroom's brother, Capt. Edward W. Carden, N. G. H. of Lihue, were the witnesses. The witnesses were respectively maid of honor and best man.

Many relatives and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony, and later attended a reception given at the Pierpoint, the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Cassidy. The Hawaiian band was present, and played during the evening. There was impromptu dancing, and refreshments were served in the tastefully decorated dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Carden will make their home in Honolulu, where both have always lived.

POLYNESIAN HISTORY TRACED BY LECTURER

Resemblance between the legends and stories of Polynesians scattered through 30 groups of islands in the Pacific was pointed out by W. D. Westervelt, an authority on the race, in a talk before the Thursday night lecture class at the Y. M. C. A. last night. He gave numerous instances of almost exact resemblance, many of them from his recent book "Maul". He traced the supposed history of the race, from their original home in India to the many islands of the South Seas.

The last of the Hawaiian lectures will be given next Thursday, when Dr. W. T. Brigham speaks on "The Meaning of Sacrifice."

FIRST ATTEMPT TO KILL DUFFY FOILED BY WIFE

Opium Faker Arrested Here and Murdered in San Francisco Had Many Enemies.

Before Leon J. Duffy, who was arrested here February 23 by customs inspectors who found opium tins in his possession, was murdered at his home in San Francisco several weeks ago, a previous attempt had been made to kill him, according to a news story in the Examiner, which says the courage of his wife saved his life at that time.

"One week ago Sunday night," says the story, "Duffy and his wife returned to their home from a moving picture house in Mission street. They rode in a jitney bus that took them within a few feet of their door. Mrs. Duffy in relating this adventure to the police says that as they stepped from the machine, a man stepped from the shadow of a building and leveled a revolver at her husband."

"Mrs. Duffy seized the would-be assassin and threw her arms around his neck, holding him so close that he lost momentarily use of the weapon. At the same time she screamed for her husband to run for the house."

Driver Takes Part.

"After a brief struggle the man with the gun wrestled himself free from the woman, but was interrupted in a rush after Duffy by the driver of the jitney bus. 'After a parley in which the jitney man was obliged to throw his hands above his head, Duffy disappeared and his enemy ran down Highland avenue in the direction of Mission. Mrs. Duffy denies she knows the would-be slayer, but has furnished a description to the police."

Had Many Enemies.

"On the subject of Duffy's enemies a captain of detectives had this to say: 'If we were to bring in all of Duffy's enemies, the hall of justice would not hold them. During his life he engaged in a business of bunking friends with a substitute for opium, and was in trouble all the time.'

ONE PAIR OF GLASSES DOES WORK OF TWO; NEW INVENTION MAKES IT POSSIBLE

It is no longer necessary for people who need glasses for both reading and distance use to have two pairs. By wearing the new patented "Utex One-Piece" Bifocal two pairs of glasses are not required. Both reading and distance corrections are combined in one single lens, and do away with unnecessary changing of glasses. They save time, temper and inconvenience—anyone can wear "Utex One-Piece" Bifocals who requires two pairs of glasses. Remember the name "Utex." See Dr. Capps at Rooms 37 and 38, Young Bldg. Wall & Dougherty's Optical Department.—Adv.
